The National Association of Home Inspectors, Inc. is a non-profit association that provides this service to connect individuals with our members. NAHI does not make any representation or warranty as to the quality of inspections done by its members and does not endorse any services or products of any member or company. All of NAHI's members agree to conduct their home inspections according to the NAHI Standards of Practice & Code of Ethics. The Standards provide a minimum guideline for conducting a home inspection. The Standards are available for viewing under the "Consumer Information" section of our website or ask your inspector for a copy of the NAHI Standards of Practice & Code of Ethics prior to your inspection.
